IETE

The Institution of Electronics and Telecommunication Engineers (IETE) is India's leading recognized professional society devoted to the advancement of Science and Technology of Electronics and Telecommunication. Founded in 1953, it serves more than 60,000 members through its 64 centres spread all over India and abroad. The Institution provides leadership in Scientific and Technical areas of direct importance to the national development and economy. Government of India has recognized IETE as a Scientific and Industrial Research Organization (SIRO) and also notified as an educational Institution of national eminence. The objectives of IETE is to focus on advancing electro-technology. The IETE conducts and sponsors technical meetings, conferences, symposia, and exhibitions all over India, publishes technical journals and provides continuing education as well as career advancement opportunities to its members. (www.iete.org)

IETE Mumbai Centre

Established in 1955, IETE Mumbai Centre is one of the major centers of the IETE involved in professional development programs and various student activities as per the guidelines of IETE HQ. It is a 2nd BEST Centre of the IETE for the year 2011-12. The centre is recognized as Centre of Excellence for 'Microcontroller and Embedded System'. The centre is serving its nearly 750 local members and more than 3000 student members through its premises at 73-B, Collector's Colony, Chembur Camp, Mumbai-400074.

Mumbai

Ancient but modern, Mumbai is the financial capital of India. Mumbai once spread into seven islands is now most populated metro and commercial hub of the country. The southern most neck of land is known as COLABA and this is the place where most of the tourists gravitate because of decent range of Hotels and Restaurant and also for two landmarks GATE WAY OF INDIA and TAJMAHAL HOTEL. Towards north is FORT where the old British fort once stood and towards west NARIMAN POINT for high rise modern business centre and further towards north MARINE DRIVE and CHOWPATTY BEACH are the most beautiful places of Mumbai. Weather in September month is most pleasant with temperature ranging from 25° C to 28° C.

THEME

The last decade is characterized by significant development in electronics and computer technology. This decade has also witnessed exponential growth of telecommunication in India. Today, internet has become increasingly important for rapid access of information. In an increasingly knowledge intensive global scenario, Telecommunication has emerged as a key driver of socio-economic development and India needs to play a leadership role in it. The robust economic growth in the country is leading to an extraordinarily high demand for electronic products in general and telecom products in particular. This growth is technology driven in not only telecom but electronics and computers also. One cannot separate out these interrelated fields from each other. Today the digital world has made all the equipments smart through integration of software. India is leading software developer should also focus on hardware development.

The conference is aimed at bringing together the policy makers, researchers, developers, manufacturers and users, on single platform to discuss the road map ahead.
